

SITES-IDEAS is a non-profit organization that aims at fostering collaboration among Italian and foreign development economists and with both national and international research institutions. It also aims at stimulating theoretical and empirical research, the analysis of development policies, and the training of its youngest members and of development PhD.

Among the main activities of SITES-IDEAS there are the dissemination through its website and various meetings and conferences of research data and results generated by its members; the organization of seminars, training workshops and research conferences on development issues both within the academia and in cooperation with policy-makers; and the promotion of inter-institutional cooperation within Italy and with foreign and international institutions.

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Giovanni Andrea Cornia - Università di Firenze
 Marcello D'Amato - Università di Salerno
 Pasquale Lucio Scandizzo - Università di Roma Tor Vergata
 Simone Bertoli - CERDI Université d'Auvergne, Clermont-Ferrand
 Alessandro Tarozzi - Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona
 Vito Peragine - Università di Bari
 Federico Perali - Università di Verona

LOCAL ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

Giuseppe Folloni
 Giorgia Giovannetti
 Donato Romano

FIRST ANNUAL CONFERENCE

11-12 SEPTEMBER 2014
UNIVERSITY OF FLORENCE

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

POPULATION ECONOMICS
STEPHAN KLASSEN Georg-August Universität Göttingen
IMPACT EVALUATION
ALESSANDRO TAROZZI Universitat Pompeu Fabra Barcelona
RURAL DEVELOPMENT AND FOOD SECURITY
CHRISTOPHER GILBERT Università degli Studi di Trento
INEQUALITY, GROWTH, POVERTY AND WELL-BEING
DENIS COGNEAU Paris School of Economics

with the support of

