Leonardo Innocenti

✉ [1]

📞

📍

📅

⚥

🚗

🚩

Professional Profile

Recent graduate in Development Economics (M.Sc. with honors) with a focus on empirical analysis and public policy in developing countries. Seeking to apply research skills in an international context to contribute to high-impact projects at the intersection of economics and social development.

Language skills

English
(C1)

French
(B2)

German
(A1)

Education

Master degree - Economics and Development,
University of Florence
09/2022 – 04/2025 | Florence
- Final grade: 110/110 with honors (cum laude)
- Key coursework: Statistical inference, International trade, Development macroeconomics
- Focused on quantitative methods and economic analysis with particular attention to international trade and development processes

Bachelor's degree - Business Administration,
University of Florence
09/2019 – 10/2022 | Florence
- Final grade: 108/110

English Language Course (C1 level), Myes english school
03/2021 – 02/2022 | Florence

Publications

Weather extremes in migration dynamics: Evidence from the Philippines,
Co-authored with Prof. F. Randelli (UniFi)
2025
- Currently under review to Scientific Reports
- Methodology: Gravity model on Philippine Census data | Climate variables: precipitations/temperature extremes | Fixed effects structure

Skills

Technical Skills
Stata, GIS, Excel, LaTeX;

Research Methods
Econometrics, Survey design, Policy Evaluation.

Soft Skills
Teamwork, Communication, Information management, Creative problem solving.

Declaration

I hereby authorise the processing of my personal data in accordance with EU Regulation 2016/679 (GDPR) for recruitment purposes. I declare that the information provided is accurate and complete.

Florence , 10/06/2025